HISTORY

In 2026, the SAC heads back to the vibrant city of Atlanta, Georgia. With the beautiful and convenient Gas South Convention Center as its venue, this year's conference promises an unforgettable experience in a city celebrated for its diverse population, outstanding food and cultural experiences, technological leadership, and rapidly growing automotive presence.

The Southern Automotive Conference (SAC) has solidified its reputation as the largest event of its kind in the United States, celebrating the explosive growth and cutting-edge innovation of the Southeast's automotive sector. Marking its 19th year in 2026, this must-attend event is presented by the leading automotive associations and companies from Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee, alongside the Southern Automotive Women's Forum (SAWF). Hosted by the Georgia Automotive Manufacturers Association (GAMA) as part of the Southern Automotive Manufacturers Alliance (SAMA), the SAC rotates annually between four key automotive states, serving as the driving force behind collaboration and progress in the South's booming automotive industry.

The SAC's impressive rise reflects the Southeast's transformation into North America's fastest-growing automotive hub, fueled by multi-billion-dollar investments from industry giants like Kia, Ford, Honda, Hyundai, Mazda Toyota, Mercedes-Benz, Nissan, Rivian, Bluebird, and Tesla. Renowned for its world-class manufacturing, thriving supply chain, and business-friendly environment, the region continues to attract OEMs and suppliers eager to shape the future of mobility.

OVERVIEW

In October 2026, the Southern Automotive Conference (SAC) will once again bring together senior executives and decision-makers from OEMs and top-tier suppliers, as well as service providers worldwide for an unforgettable event in Atlanta, Georgia. ★ BRONZE PARTNER // $5,000

- 1/3-page color ad in the SAC 2026 program book.
- 2 complimentary attendee registrations.

★ ROUNDTABLE ROOM PARTNER // $20,000

- Sponsor and structure a 1,680-sf room designated for the Roundtable Room. Creating an effective roundtable room is about shifting the focus from “listening to a speaker” to “collaborating with peers.” Unlike a standard lecture hall, a roundtable space should feel democratic, interactive, and comfortable for long-form discussion. We can help structure the Roundtable Room logistics with you as needed. Collect the contact info for all participants and follow up with a “whitepaper” of challenges & ideas.

SOME EXAMPLES:

- Lightning Intro Rounds: Give every participant exactly 30 seconds to state their name and one specific challenge they want to solve today. This ensures every voice is heard in the first 10 minutes.
- The “Solution Room”: Halfway through, have each table identify one concrete problem. Spend the final 20 minutes “crowdsourcing” solutions from the other tables.
- “Ask Me Anything” (AMA) Boards: Place a physical or digital board where people can post “hot takes” or questions they are too shy to ask out loud. The moderator can pull from these to spark new threads of conversation.

Unless indicated otherwise, multiple sponsorships are available at each level.
